Dignity and Dying: A Christian Appraisal

Issues:
End of Life
Human Dignity

Dignity and Dying: A Christian Appraisal

Edited by John F. Kilner, Arlene B. Miller, and Edmund D. Pellegrino
(Grand Rapids: Eerdmans Publishing Company, 1996)

Written from the perspective of physicians, nurses, ethicists, and pastors, this book develops a Christian framework for dealing with issues at the end of life. The book considers from a biblical perspective the notion of autonomy, the meaning of suffering, decisions about treatment, and more.

Table of Contents

Introduction: The Experience of Dying

David L. Shiedermayer, ?A Physician?s Experience?
Arlene B. Miller, ?A Nurse?s Expeirence?
Gregory L. Waybright, ?A Pastor?s Expeirence?

Part I: Guiding Vision

1. Nigel M. de S. Cameron, ?Autonomy and the Right to Die?
2. John T. Dunlop, ?Death and Dying?
3. Marsha D. M. Fowler, ?Suffering?
4. Allen D. Verhey, ?Faithfulness in the Face of Death?

Part II: Pressing Challenges

5. John F. Kilner, ?Forgoing Treatment?
6. C. Christopher Hook, ?Medical Futility?
7. B. Holly Vautier, ?Definition of Death?
8. Edmund D. Pellegrino, ?Euthanasia and Assisted Suicide?

Part III: Particular Settings

9. C. Ben Mitchell, ?Nazi Germany?s Euphemisms?
12. Henk Jochemsen, ?The Netherlands Experiment?

Part IV: Constructive Alternatives

13. Martha L. Twaddle, ?Hospice Care?
14. James R. Thobaben, ?Long-Term Care?
15. James S. Reitman, ?Wise Advocacy?
17. Dennis P. Hollinger, ?Congregational Ministry?

Special Resource Types:
Publications

This work is licensed under a Creative Commons Attribution-NonCommercial-NoDerivs 3.0 United States License.

Source URL (modified on 09/19/2017 - 15:10): https://cbhd.org/Dignity_and_Dying