Communicating an Unexpected Prenatal Diagnosis: Offering Comfort and Encouragement to Families

Post Date: 04/22/2014
Author: Donna J. Harrison
John M. Thorp

Issues:
Clinical & Medical Ethics
Disability Ethics
Genetics
Reproductive Ethics

Session from the 2013 Conference: "Managing an Unexpected Prenatal Diagnosis: Critical Considerations for Counselors, Clinicians, and Friends" held on Thursday July 18, 2013. For more information visit here.

Dr. Harrison presented materials prepared in part by Dr. Thorp.

This work is licensed under a Creative Commons Attribution-NonCommercial-NoDerivs 3.0 United States License.

Source URL (modified on 06/04/2014 - 14:37): https://cbhd.org/content/communicating-unexpected-prenatal-diagnosis-offering-comfort-and-encouragement-families